"IS'E GWINE HOME!" JESSE DAVIS SUFFERS THE EX-

TREME PENALTY. he Closing Scenes in the Life of One Who was Neither Fit to Live or Die.

Special Report to the News.

SMITHFIELD, June 13 .-- Another sickening gallows scene has been added to the list in our State. This time it happens in this village, but be it known it was not a Johnston county criminal who for the crime of rape has tasted the strength of hemp.

Jesse Davis, a full blooded negro. born and reared in the solitudes of the backwoods portion of Franklin county, made an outrageous assault on a lonely white woman at the dead of night and upon her person committed the vilest crime known to our laws, for which he was twice tried, and the last time, in this county, was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged.

The sentence has been carried out after many delays; Jesse Davis is in eternity; the law has been satisfied :

THE CROWD OF MORBIDLY CURIOUS

which flocked to town to witness the sad spectacle has dispersed, and the only thing necessary now to complete the tale is for your reporter to tell it. But let me begin at the beginning: When the year 1877 was wearily and drearily drawing to a close, Jesse Dayis was employed by Mr. William Fuller, who lives in Franklin county, near the Nash line, to "chop logs" in his (Ful-ler's) new ground. Davis "chopped logs" there several days. Just across a little spring-branch near the new ground, lived in a small log house, Mrs. Murgaret Champion, a white woman, wose husband had left her. Mrs. Champion is a very poor but highly re-spectable lady, bearing a most excellent character. She lived in the house mentioned, almost alone, her only companion being her little child, then not more than eighteen months or two years old. Mrs. Champion used water from a spring near the new ground in which Davis was at work, and during the last day of Davis' labors there, she found him several times at the spring when she would go thither for water, but no conversation took place between them. About ten o'clock that night, some one knocked at the door of Mrs. Champion's house and demanded admitance, which being refused, THE DOOR WAS BURST DOWN, Jesse Davis walked in and boldly told the terrified inmate what his vile purpose was, and then drawing a large knife, he further informed her that he would kill her instantly if sheattempted to give an alarm or offered the slightest resistance. Terrified beyond expression, with no one to protect her and hone near to help or hear a cry, and with a dangerous butcher-knife to hold her in subjection, the poor woman could only submit to a brutal outrage

PRAY FOR VENGEANCE. The next day Mrs. Champion related her wrongs to a neighbor and then to Dr. Durphy, a magistrate. It being dark in her house at the time the villain en-tered, she could not identify him, but felt sure she would know his voice. Davis was arrested on a warrant issued by Durphy and being taken in a room with five other men, Mrs. Champion was brought in blindfolded and Dr. Durphy asked each of the men questions on various subjects. When Davis

REPLIED TO THE QUESTION which was put to him, Mrs. Champior instantly recognized the voice and said he is the man. Davis was sent on, and at the spring term of Franklin Superior court, 1877, he was indicted and put upon trial. This hearing resulted in a mis-trial, the jury being unable to agree and standing ten for conviction and two for acquittal.

Mr. B. B. Massenburg, of Louisburg, having been appointed by the court to defend the prisoner, conducted the case in a masterly manner and did all in his power for the accused. At the fall term, 1878, of the court, on motion of the counsel for defense, the case was moved to Johnston for trial. The trial consumed several days and resulted in a verdict of guilty. An appeal was taken to the Supreme court, and that tribunal sustained the rulings of the lower court, hence, at the last term of our court Judge Buxton resentenced the prisoner to be hanged to-day.

There are always to be found a plen-to sign a petition to the Governor for executive elemency in the case of any criminal, however vile his crime and however clear his guilt. So it was in Davis' case. A petition somewhat numerously signed, went up to Governor Jarvis for a commutation of sen tence to life imprisonment, but it availed the prisoner nothing.

Jesse Davis was a genuine negro, nearly midnight black. He was a heavy thick-set man, weighing two hundred and thirty pounds or more. He was formerly a slave and was illit erate, though a man of good common sense. He was forty-five years old and bore about as bad a character as fortyfive years of vice could well give a man.

Mrs. Champion is a poor woman of unblemished character. She has been twice married and her second husband is still living, having left his wife and child rather than to work for and properly support them. The execution took place in the jail yard, which is surrounded by a low fence affording no obstruction to the view of the large crowd which was gathered around it.

The gallows used is the same one upon which Edwards was hung in February last. It is a stout structure with a large scaffold, and the trap is well arranged on a short set and easily sprung trigger. It stands in the jail yard, surrounded by a low fence in plain view of the whole town and overlooking the court house green.

A parcel of negro preachers have had Davis' spiritual matters in hand for two or three weeks. Last Saturday he was baptised by a colored minister in Neuse river, the sheriff and a posse accompanied them to the river. A large rope was put around the prisoner's body, at the other end of which the sheriff sat on the bank while the minister was performing the ordinance in the middle of the placid stream. The colored ministers held services in the jail all this morning. Loud and noisy praying and exhorting and very vehement singing was indulged in, while on the outside of the jail old negro women, young negro women, men and boys of semi-superstitious and semi-religious temperaments were wildly shouting, moaning, groaning, shaking hands and waving their heads to and fro, exclaiming, seemingly in answer to the excited exhortations of the ministers inside—"Yes," "dats so," "bless God," "gwine home," "Holy Jesus, come down," and other expres-sions characteristic of the race.

The crowd was not near as large as when Edwards was executed, there being one thous and five hundred people on the ground, composed of men women and children of both colors.

Yes, white women were there, and some of them judging from appearances the crowd was not near as large as the constant of the whole mining population for it will make a new era of prosperity for the miners of the Comstock lode. Since the water flooded the Savage and adjacent mines four years ago the lower works have remained submerged.

Promotly at one o'clock the prisoner was brought out of jail. When he stepped on the ground he said: "My friends how is you all?" I is very well and gwine home, how's you all?" He was greatly agitated and walked to the scaffold with no little difficulty.

Several preachers, and six officers accompanied the doomed man upon the fatal platform, and the prisoner was seated in a chair.

On taking his seat he looked around and asked "Is any my black folks here from way down in Franklin?"

The following fatal document was tones: State vs. Jesse Davis-State of North Carolina.

To the sheriff of Johnston county Greeting. We command you, in obedience to an order of the Superior Court of said county of Johnston, made at Spring Term, A. D. 1879, of said court, that on Friday, the 13th day June, A. D. 1879, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock, p m of the said day you m. and 3o'clock, p m of the said day you take the prisoner, Jesse Davis, from the common jail of this county to the place of execution, as directed by law in the county, and there hang him by the neck until he be dead, and may the Lord have mercy upon his soul.

Witness: J. M. Abell, clerk of our said court, at his office at Smithfield, on the 11th Monday after the 2d Monday the 11th Monday after the 2d Monday in February, A. D. 1879.

[Signed] J. H. ABELL, C. S. C. After the reading the prisoner was told to speak if he had anything to say. He arose in great agitation and spoke for nearly half an hour. His talk was a wild, incoherent harangue, composed of ofe-repeated denials of his guilt, abuse of the index intry witnesses. abuse of the judge, jury, witnesses, sheriff and Mrs. Champion, the woman whom he outraged. He asked if any reporters for the newspapers were present, and when told there was, he said he wanted them to take down every word he said and print it—a little performance which would defy the in-genuity of a short-hand writer, even had one been present. He said he was hung not because he was guilty, but because he was a negro and Mrs. Champion was a white woman. His denunciations of the white people were bitter in the extreme. He said God had forgiven his sins, and he was going straight to heaven and live forever with the

The colored ministers, after the har-angue, sang, prayed and exhorted and at 1:38 p. m. shook hands with the doomed man and left the scaffold. The noose was quickly adjusted and the black cap put on, Davis, in the meantime, talking loudly, wildly and excitedly. While he yet continued to talk, or rather howl, and was feeling for the chair in which he had previously been sitting, the trigger was sprung, the trap fell with a heavy thud, and Jesse Davis' body was dangling be-tween earth and heaven. Death en-tween earth and heaven. Death ensued in eleven minutes, and was the result of strangulation, his stout short neck being rope proof.

When the drop fell there was much howling and moaning among the negroes present. His body was taken down in thirty minutes after life was declared extinct, and buried at the expense of the county, none of wretch's friends having claimed it. Sheriff Powell transacted the unplease ant duties imposed upon him by virtue of his office in the best manner possible, and was ably assisted by ex-Sheriff

Cullom and several deputies.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—SENATE.— The army bill was read a second time The army bill was read a second time and referred to the Committee on Ap-propriations. The legislative appro-priation bill was taken up as reported from the Senate Committee on Appro-priations. The form of the bill was also severely criticised by Senators Allison, Conkling and Blaine. The latter said that as the bill came from the House, it actually appropriated nothing, and that if a person did not know what it was he would think it had been taken from some joke book. In its present form it was simply disgraceful, and ought to be kicked under the table. Senator Windom's motion to recommit was lost; yeas 23, nays 32. The bill mittee amen Iments. At the and of each clause a criticism of the form of the bill was renewed, assertions being repeatedly made that it was so vague and mixed that nobody could tell what it appropriated or meant. The amend-ment was adopted appropriating fifteen thousand dollars for the bureau of education. The bill was read the third time and passed. The Senate then adjourned. House,-Mr. Norton, New York, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, re-ported by unanimous consent the bill to allow any telegra shie company to land an ocean cable on the coast of the United States. In course of the brief colloquy it was stated that this is the wars stated that this is the same bill as was reported by Fernando Wood in the last Congress and that it is the general bill intended to cut off all previous class legislation. It is subet, however, to terms of such grants as have been heretofore made by Con-gress for laying and maintaining tele-graph cables. The bill was passed. The bill authorizing an allowance for loss by leakage or casualty of spirits with-drawn from the distillery or ware-houses for exportation was referred to the Committee of the Whole. Also a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to examine and settle acexpended for military purposes during the war of 1812. Adjourned.

The Kellogg-Spofford Case. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The Committee on Privileges and Elections continued the investigation of the Kel-legg-Spofford case. Mr. Shellabarger offered as evidence the record of the Louisiana House of Representatives of Jan-uary, '77, showing the appointment of a committee to investigate charges of bribery in procuring the election of Kellogg, and their report on the subject showing that according to the testimoshowing that according to the testimony taken there was no proof to sustain the charges. Merrick objected, denying that the paper was competent evidence. He had offered to prove that Kellogg's election was procured by bribery, and the subject was investigated by and acted on by those who had been hered to be the control of the control had been bribed. The report could have no effect upon the action of the committee or Senate. The Chairman said that the question of admissibility

document offered was persuasive, but not conclusive. Mr. Shellabarger remarked that what he offered was prima facie evidence of truth. The paper in question, together with the record of the Senate on the day of election, were admitted as evidence. The Satro Tunnel. SAN FRANCISCO, June 13 .- The work in the sub-drain of the Sutro Tunnel is being vigorously pushed ahead. Al-though three-fourths of the work is al-ready completed, five hundred miners and carpenters are still employed.

The waters from the flooded mines will be discharged into the tunnel on contract time—that is to say on the 29th inst. This time is looked forward to by Manchester Examiner.

It is dangerous nowadays to laugh at any of the wonderful stories which are from time to time narrated in the columns of the pre a, because these stories have acquired an awkward habit of turning out be true, and to make those who mocked; and jeered feel small. Therefore, it will be well to wait before smiling at the extraordinary account of a recent discovery which the Times copies from the Brisbane Courier. For the benefit of such of my readers as have not seen this account, I may explain that it announces that a certain Signor Rotura, a gentleman who knows a great deal about South American botany has found out a method of

SUSPENDING ANIMATION IN LIVING BODIES for an indefinite time, and of bringing them to life again whenever he likes. unless certain accidental circumstances prevent the success of the experiment in hand. Aided by a Mr. James Grant, Signor Rotura has been operating on dogs, ca s and sheep with most marvelous results, if the story is true. He makes a slight puncture in the animal's ear and pours in a few drops of some South America vegetable extract, now known only to himself, and the dog or sheep immediately becomes rigid, and to all present intents and purposes,

Then the animal is PUT AWAY ON A SHELF to keep. Not in this state, however, for long, for it is said that the resemblance to death is so complete that de-composition soon sets in. This, there-fore, is to be avoided by freezing the subjects into the hardness of stone and brittleness of glass, and in this state the beasts are to be sent over to England or any other country which may want them. As soon as they arrive another little hole is to be made in the neck, a few drops of the antidote to the poison injected, and the animal will immediately regain consciousness and begin to skip and frolic about. Sometimes, it is said, the subject succumbs to the operation of freezing, but not often. For even such delicate creatures as newly-born lambs have been resusci-tated after being apparently dead for and application of the discovery is the transmission of the surplus stock of Australian sheep and cattle to Europe, but Signor Rotura expects to work still greater marvels than that. He has not yet experimented upon a human being, because, I suppose, no human being, not eyen himself, has been found W. W. Vass, $1,000; Kelly, Purefoy & who cared to risk martyrdom in the in-terests of science, but application is said to have been made to Sir Henry Parkes to allow the next felon conlemned to death in the colony to be operated upon. I suppose the criminal would not object. At the worst, he could only die, and if the experiment succeed he would probably receive a pardon for his services. If Signor Ro tura gets the man, he proposes to inject the poison, put the felon in a refrigerator for a month and then take him out BRING HIM TO LIFE AGAIN. The most extraordinary part of the story is that the signor believes that the time the person or animal experi-mented upon remains unconscious, nay be years, if not taken out of his ordinary life, because no bodily change las's, so that a person who was tired of life now and wanted to leave the world and come back another day, would only have to get himself entranced and frozen up, and be brought back to ac-tive existence at an appointed time. If all this is invention, it at least shows that the world possesses a writer of romance before whose astounding imagi-nation Baron Munchausen himself must pale his ineffectual fires.

Wake Forest Commencement.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS, -As usual, the Chapel was crowded Commence-ment Day to witness the exercises. The marshals performed their duties in a creditable manner and decorum and quiet marked the proceedings. There was the usual parade of the societies, and the formal arrangement of the students in the parts of the Chapel set apart for them before the programme of the day was begun. The rostrum was crowded with the trustees and distinguished visitors.

Professor Simmons announced the forty fifth Commencement of Wake Forest College, and Dr. Theo. Whitfield opened the ceremonies with an earnest prayer. On the front bench were seated the twelve Seniors who had completed the prescribed course of studies, and were entitled to their degrees as Mas-ters or Bachelors of Arts. We have not room to eulogize the young men or their speeches, but will give the names of each and the theme chosen for their graduating efforts: Salutatory-Edwin Ferebee Avdlett.

The Whitfield medal that goes to the best Latin scholar, was presented by Prof. Reinhart to T. P. Womack.

The Declamation medal was awarded to M. V. McDuffie, of Fayetteville, by Rev. C. A. Jenkins, of Louisburg.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard delivered the diplomas. He added a few words of counsel to the outgoing class, and he spoke at his best. He complimented the class on the manly, moral tone, the matter and manner of their speeches, and the audience applauded the compliment. He toldithem that he was glad they were poor, and that they had to make their poor, and that they had to make their own fortunes. He paid an honest and deserved tribute to Dr. ./ingate.
The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Mr. Savage, and the College Commencement proper was at an end.

At the memorial services of the late Rew. Dr. Wingate, the Rev. Mr. Jones, of Yanceyville, introduced the Rev.
F. H, Ivey. who delivered an eloquent eulogy on the life and character of the honored deceased.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT. The Rev. E. T. Winkler, D.D., the President elect of the College, was born in Georgia. He was graduated from Brown's University in Rhode from Brown's University in Rhode Island, and read theology in Newton Baptist Theological Seminary, located near Boston. His first pastorate was in Washington, Ga., and was for many years pastor of the First Church and Citadel Square Baptist Church in Charleston, S. C. He was elected a professor in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at its origin in 1859, but declined to leave his pastorate. For some years past he has pastorate. For some years past he has resided in Marion, Ala. He is chairman of the Board of Missions of the Southern Baptist Convention, and editor of the Alabama Baptist. He is a man of real learning, a superior preacher, and one of the finest platform speakers in the South. He carries great weight with his denomination.

The Board of Trustees have invited him to visit the college at their expense before he decided the question of acceptance.
At the close of the address of Rev. F.

H. Ivey, Thursday evening, W. H. Pace, Esq., of Raleigh, said that he had promised the students to have a new chapel by next Commencement, new chapel by next Commencement, and that he proposed to raise the money then and there. The result of his efforts was a most flattering tribute to this gentleman's ability and popularity, for he not only gave liberally himself, but secured the handsome sum of $75,000, for the erection of the Wingate Memorial Building. PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—The fire at Point Breeze was rekindled at 11:15 a. m., a stiff breeze which prevailed fanning the blaze to immense proportions. The Atlantic Petroleum Storage Company's warehouse building, about five hundred feet in length and one hundred and fifty feet wide, took fire from burning oil which escaped from the Hudson, one of the vessels which her been in the ways gives Wednesday the Hudson, one of the vessels which has been in flames since Wednesday ast. The entire works are now in im minent peril.

PHILADELPHIA, 2:20 P. M-The following has just been received from Point Breeze: "At noon. The place is going. It is feared new that the fire will reach Point Breeze oil works. A strong west-erly breeze blew flames to the wharf of the Atlantic Petroleum Storage Company and the fire at once spread to a large shed two hundred feet by eighty, immediately south of the warehouse which was destroyed on Wednesday. The wind then veered to the north and a long line of sheds extending for nearly a mile to the southward anualt fire ly a mile to the southward caught fire and by noon all were ablaze with seven and by noon all were ablaze with seven thousand three hundred barrels of oil which they contained." South of these sheds is Point Breeze oil works alluded to in the above dispatch and below that point are a large number of frame dwellings occupied by workmen and their families. In rear of the line of seven sheds reported on fire are five others and a larger warehouse, the smallest of which is two hundred and sixty feet long by one hundred and twenty feet wide and the largest four hundred and sixty by one hundred and twenty-five feet. These are separated from the burning sheds by an elevation of ground, and from present indications they will be saved as well as the At-lantic oil car tanks further east, which contain 135,000 barrels of crude oil and 40,000 barrels of refined and special oils Gubernatorial Nomination. AUGUSTA, June 13.—Smith, of Old-town, has accepted the candidacy for governor of the State tendered him by he Greenbackers.

Bill Arp says in the Atlanta Constitution: Fifty years have made a wonderful change in Gadsden, for when old man Gad first squatted down here as a refuge from South Carolina justice, he very properly dubbed it his den. I am told he was a regular bull-of-the-woods among the first settlers, and was the only man for miles around who had even a smattering of education. The first steamboat that ever plied upon the waters of the Coosa dropped down here in 1842, and when old man Gad was called upon by the wonderdown here in 1942, and when old man Gad was called upon by the wonderstruck crowd to translate the big red letters on the wheel-house (U. On Tuesday morning last, the gang of convicts at work on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Railroad, between Bear and Pig Creeks, Chatham county, showed signs of discontent, and on being marched out to work, ten of them broke away and made a dead run toward a house. They were ordered to stop with the warning that they would be fired on if they failed to obey, but they, apparently under the impression that the guard would not dare to shoot toward the house for fear of injuring the inmates, paid no attention e the command. The guard then fired, killing three of the runaways and wounding two; three were captured and two made good their escape, of whom no traces had been discovered when our informant left. One of them was from Wilmington and the other from Hillsboro. The gang was led by a white man named Ruff, who bore the reputa-tion of being a notorious horse thief, and on whom the State of New York has a claim.

The details received are very meager, The details received are very meager, but our informant states that the escapade and its bloody result had caused much excitement in the locality. A woman was milking a cow, in the path of the escaping convicts, and one of the bullets came close enough to her to cause her to seek a safer place, where the "zip" of the balls would be out of earshot.

Commoncement Exercises at David-

Correspondence of the News.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE, June 15 .- Your reporter arrived on the ground on Tuesday. It was a day dark and showery, and low clouds overhung the sky and depressed the hopes of many. But it had never been known to rain at a Commencement at Davidson, and of course, notwithstanding clouds and gloom, it couldn't rain. There were however weltering showers during the day. The change in schedule on the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio railroad, which is the grand name of the little road between Charlotte and Statesville, seriously discommoded many who wished to visit Davidson Tuesday, though extra excursion trains ran on Wednesday and Thursday for the accommodation of the great crowds that attended.

The evening of Tuesday was given to the anniversary meeting of the Literary Societies, which were doubtless enjoyed by those who were so favored as to be within the handsome halls. And by the way the halls of the two Societies, the Philanthropic and Eumenean, though not very large, are certainly very ele-gant and beautiful. The Philanthropic Hall has an exceedingly handsome rostrum supported by marble columns, and with a President's stand of pure Italian marble, one of the most chaste and dainty rostrums to be seen and all the equipments cool and inviting, while the Eumenean Hall, newly and superbly frescood is rich and elegant in all its appointments. The grounds are tastefully laid out, and parts of the spectous camping council and parts of the spacious campus ciotned with houding clover "loved by drowsy bees," while the plots near the halls and in the lawn were covered with rich deep sward. Though the grounds are in some parts bare of trees, yet fine groves here and there are found of native oaks, and handsome yard trees, elm, beech, maple, and other varieties are set out every year dotting the whole expanse. The massive new building, in doric majesty and simplicity, needs grand old oaks about it, and looks bare and austere to a stranger.

The session just closed is one of unusual prosperity. The high standard of scholarship and severe examinations, while they add to the deserved reputation and power of the college, deter some possibly from its walls. The number of students the current term is 107, an increase of twenty over the pieceding year, and the outlook for the next is still more favorable. Rev. Dr. Hepburn the able, accomplished and modest President; aided and abetted by the distinguished corps who constitute the faculty, have won for themselves and for their institution the applause of the lovers of high and pure education everywhere. Davidson students, we hear, at the University of Virginia, John Hopkins University, and even in foreign universities, win the honors and awards given in competitive scholar-

A brillian programme is offered for to-morrow and next day, of which you shall be duly advised.

Edison's Detroit Rival. Detroit Free Press, 9th.

Saturday evening a reporter of the Saturday evening a reporter of the Free Press spent a couple of hours in the old church on Pine Street, where several months ago he discovered Charles J. Vandepoele, the enthusiastic electrician. A flood of light, beautiful in its soft brilliancy, fell upon the tools and patterns scattered everywhere and dent from the center of the ceiling hung the marvelous cause of it all—the coming light, produced by electricity. The plucky Mr. Vandepoele, although working at great disadvantage, has made notable improvements in the light which he first exhibited to a reporter of this paper some months ago. The light which was shown Saturday night was a clear white ray, having a steady glow, flickering only occasionally, when the are between the carbon points was changed by the current. Sixty feet away from the light the finest print was easily read, and still its brilliancy did not dazzle nor pain the eyes, as it came from near the ceiling. When the light was lowered to the table, however, it was much too strong, but easily regulated by the force of the current. Mr. Vandepoele was particularly jubilant, and spoke of the coming exhibition which he proposed to make in the streets of the city. He had hoped to get his new and large dynamo-electric machine ready to make the practice. cal exhibition on the evening of the Fourth of July, but will hardly be able to. He expects, however, to exhibit one light in front of the city hall on that evening and with it illuminate the whole Campus Martius. The test which Mr Vandepoele proposes to make within the next two months must sat-isfy the city authorities whether they will invest in the electric light or not. He will place twelve or fourteen lights at different points in the city, locating several on the Campus Martius, one near the river, and others wherever

The Points for Argumente-A Formi-dable Array of Countel for the

As will be remembered this case was moved from Wake county to Franklin and came up for a hearing before Judge Buxton at the last term of Franklin court. The Judge after a careful examination of the record adjudged it improper to try in Franklin county, because there was no issue joined before the removal; he therefore ordered the case back to Wake county. The State got out a certiorariwhich is to be argued this afternoon at 3 o'clock before the Supreme Court. The points for argument will be.

1st. Was the case properly in Franklin county? 2d. Did the Judge have the power to remand to Wake county? 3d. Could the replication ore tenus be made in Franklin Court.

MR. KNOTT'S REPORT. We published in Friday's News a synopsis of the report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives. The report was written by the Hon. J. Proctor Knott, chairman of the committee. It had been promised for some time, but owing to the illness of Mr. Knott the presentation was postponed from time to time until the gentleman was physically able to atten I to it. This report criticises the various messages of the President vetoing the several appropriation bills sent him on account of the repealing clauses contained in them. The report is temperate but at the same time it is severe. It discusses the several points raised in the veto messages in the light of history, and aims to establish the point that the President has not only not been wellinformed in regard to the particular issues in controversy, but that he has also, at different times, held different opinions in regard to what was required of him in the premises. The President himself is quoted as admitting that "any military interference whatever at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and would tend to destroy the freedom of elections." The report makes it evident that the act of Congress of February 27. 1865, which has been frequently adduced as an argument in favor of the excessive Federal authority exercised at the polls, was really an act intended to restrict that supposed authority, which was naturally strained to the utmost during the war, upon the theory of a "war power" outside of the constitution. The report claims that the words "or to keep the peace at the polls" were not in the original text, and that they were inserted in spite of the strenuous protest of a large number of the friends of the original measure at the time the bill was passed, who pointed out the dangerous practices which might be resorted to in consequence of misapprehensions in that regard. These acts, the report claims, have been committed, and the repealing clauses to which the President objects have been introduced solely with a view to prevent a continuance of these misconstructions and the misdeeds founded on them. The report contends that Congress is to be the sole judge of the propriety of its proceedings, and that the criticisms which the President has

In regard to the substance of the Exclauses, the report says that "the entire argument against the necessity of the bill is therefore left to rest upon the are going." President's reiterated assertion that troops have not been and will not be used to interfere with any State election during his administration." That assertion was not sincere, but unfortunately for its validity as a reason for refusing to approve a bill designed for the protection of formal term of the present Executive is limited, and he may be succeeded in the exalted position he occupies by one who will feel a less scrapulous regard for the freedom and purity of the ballot than he professes himself to entertain. Moreover, he is human and liable to change, and no one but himself can know to what extent the partisan debates in Congress have influenced his opinions even upon the questions involved in the vetoes under consideration. In a despotism, the report says, the subjects must dedend upon the good-will of their master, "but a free people, if they would remain free, must insist upon the guaranties of positive law." It is not upon Mr. Haves' intentions, in other words, but upon the correction and revision of the statutes, that Congress wishes to rest the purity of elections in the future. The report meets the President at every point upon constitutional and historical grounds, and its value as a public document must be measured by the accuracy with which it discusses these important legal and technical issues. Its temper and judicial balance are unquestionable, and are worthy of the highest commendation.

REFERRING to the applicants who have been awaiting their initiatory examination at West Point, a correspondent on the ground says: "Such a crowd "of raw-boned, green, gaping speci-"mens of young humanity was surely "never gathered together for admission "to any other academic institution in "in the country." Yet, it is an undisputed fact that the graduates of West Point command the public respect and are considered better equipped for a professional career than even the gradnates of Harvard or Yale. The explanation must be found in the discipline and the rigid adherence to system, which peculiarly distinguish the national militury and naval academies. From common schools to universities the tendency at present is all in the direction of laxity of regulations. In exalting the value of "moral suasion" and the rule of kindness, public opinion has forced the educators of youth to manage the latter without insisting upon subordination to superiors and implicit obedience to orders. In departing from the old, severe and often brutal system, we have gone to the other extreme. The reaction which may be expected cannot come too soon. It is high time the present weak and sentimental methods of dealing with the rising generation, gave place to a firmer and stricter rule.

THE "Hon. William E. Chandler, visiting statesman and political fund grabber, also a great patron of the press when it exalts him to the quasi elevation of a Republican "statesman," has issued a pamphlet, to be circulated among the members of the New Hampshire legislature, entitled "Reply of William E. Chandler to the slander of Hon. Bainbridge Wadleigh, lately United States Senator," together with a request for explanation of some of the acts of Wadleigh while Senator. It must have been a remarkable statement that could have roused the New Hampshire "lion," for he has of late years been considered as the possesser of an enormous amount of assurance that was proof against all attacks.

THE New York Times refers to the withholding of the commision of Paul Strobach as postmaster at Montgomery, Alabama, by Haves after the former's confirmation. Look at the Federal offices in Chicago! It's the same story everywhere .- Chicago Times.

In Washington it is just now a matter of common report that Secretary Sherman, for some time past, has been aui fice-holders in the South to secure delegations to the convention from that section which can be relied upon to support him. There is no direct evidence that there is any truth in these reports, but it is a fact worthy of note positions in the South have recently egun to evince an interest in politica affairs and almost to a man declared in favor of Sherman for President .- N. Y.

We believe in the use of the machine to make Roscoe Conkling President, if such a thing is possible. The possibilit will, however, turn upon the result o the nomination of the Republican candidate for governor in this State this fall. If the right man is nominated his election is quite certain. If a candidate should be nominated not acceptable to the people the danger is made imminent, not only of losing the State, but of losing the moral effect that vic tory would bring .- N. Y. Commercia

George W. Childs, who is in constant correspondence with General Grant, says the latter has never mentioned the third term idea in any of his letters. Mr. Childs feels convinced the possibility of being called upon to serve third term is wholly foreign to Grant's thoughts and that any movements to bestow public honors after his arrival, which would have a political purpose, will be distanted will be distasteful to him. The pro posed excursion affair is a business speculation aided by the railroads. Mr. Childs says there will be, undoubtedly. a handsome reception tendered General Grant by the city of San Francisco, and a few personal friends will cross the continent to take part in welcoming him, but their trip will be a private af-fair. General Grant expects to reach San Francisco in July, about the 25th. and intends to make an excursion to all places of interest on the Pacific coast. The Lager Beer manufactured by Mr. G.
W. Robinson, at the FAGLE BREWERY, in this city, has been chemically examined by me, the samples tested having been collected by myself, and found free from adulterating substances. It may be used as a medicine, or beverage, in full assurance of its purity.

It is endorsed by the direct pe sc nal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say the no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and aproval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapentical agent—Edit is Helizious Heraid, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.
Many cases of Disp. psia within my knowiedge have been cured by it. Cramis, Colles, Headaches and all sorts of pairs from indigestion vield promptly to it. The cures of this sort ar innum rable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. Col., Va.
It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for Indigestion and Flatulent Colle, sedative, sop rine, tonic, slightly ape ent, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Cont, About twelve years I suffered from Dys-pepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair triat. Afte its use I could eat any-thing with ime unity. I am sure I am in-debted to this medicine for what of health a d physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its u-8.

R v Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

1 have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a hyspepsia Colle, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without but I have recommenced it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable

J D Eggleston, M D, Va

It is a highly valuable remedy and in the whole list of medicines, so far rs I observed in my practice, for all the complaints I faw lifes from Indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester, THE INVENTION OF THE AGE. Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester s really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrest-er is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and fusurance companies.

Its prominent features are: It does not destroy the draft. It does not interfere with cleaning

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning. It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.) It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition. It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler. No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will in-Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or

NOW READY FOR DELIVERY!

The Digest of Cited Cases

North Carolina Reports.

By Hon. A. W. Tourgee.

We are happy to announce to the legal profession that this valuable work is now ready for delivery to subscribers. The labor of preparation and the necessity of securing the utmost possible accuracy in the immense number of citations, has necessarily delayed the work, but the result cannot but be satisfactory to every practioner. It contains every case in the Reports of the State which has ten cited by the Court, the cases in which cased, whether with approval or disapproval, with a careful digest of the point of citatic 2 with a full and accurate index to the subject matter of each. In form, matter, completeness and style of publication, it is undoubtedly the best law book ever published in the State containing 750 large double-column pages, 5,162 cited cases and about 30,000 citations.

It will be mailed to subscribers on receipt of the price $12$ with 25 cents for postage. Or sent by Express C. O. D. when there is an office convenient. Persons desiring to have the work should order at once, as the edition is a limited one.

This desirable watering place will be open for select visitors 20th May, 1878. The Springs are situated near Hickory Station, on the Western North Carolina Railroad.
The bracing mountain atmosphere, with the health restoring properties of their waters, renders these Springs a most desirable resort for invalids and pleasure seekers.
The mineral waters embrace Blue and White Sulphur and Chalybeate. It is the best and most extensively fitted up watering place in the State, and can accommodate three hundred persons.

A good Band of Music will remain at the Springs during the season, and all the facilities afforded for amusements usually found at first-class watering places will be offered to visitors. A good supply of ice constantly on hand.
Conveyances will meet the trains deally. at Hickory Station, to convey visitors to the Springs.

BOARD—$2 per day; $30 per month. Re-duced rates for families. Invalids can have the advantage of four different mineral waters, warm and cold baths, Turkish, hot-air, vapor and medicated baths if desired.

The examination and exercises of ol closed with declamations by a number of the pupils, after which Professors John B. Bunnell and Hobgood made a few very happy remarks. Charged with Infanticide.

Mrs. Pierce, wife of Captain Pierce, of Swift Creek township, was arrested yesterday afternoon and brought to this city on a charge of infanticide. It appears that she gave birth to twins some three weeks since and they suddenly died. Some persons have laid informa-tion that she burned them to death, hence the arrest. Justice Barbee held her to await the action of a coroner's jury. The bodies have been exhumed and an inquest will be held this morning. There are plenty of stories afloat in relation to the affair, but the NEWS refrains from publishing them in order that the case may not be prejudged.

Court met at 10 o'clock on yesterday. Present, Chief Justice Smith and Justices Ashe and Dillard. Appeals from the Second District called as follows:

No greater success has ever attended ertainment given in Raleigh than did the presentation of H. M. S Pinafore at Tucker Hall last night. All are loud in their praise of the admirable manner in which it was put upon the stage and the excellent singing and Those who have seen it played in Baltimore and New York unhesitatingly pronounce its performance here equal to that of the best professional troupes in either of those cities and far superior to some of them.

To Mr. A. P. C. Bryan is due the credit for the excellent scenery and setting of the stage. His conception, which was excellently worked out that the whole theater was the "Pinafore," and that the audi-ence were seated on one side of the ship and the stage representing the opposite side, beyond which was to be seen the bright blue sea. The stage was in every way properly fitted up with cordage,

Of the performance itself no words of ours could convey any adequate con-ception to those who were not present how delightful it was, and to those who were there it is useless to say anything, for they can now speak "official-ly" and we are sure that all the highest terms of praise that we could use would meet the hearty response, "That is possible, even sweeter than the elegant bouquet she received.

"Cousin Hebe" was acted with such irresistible naivete that she not only cap" tivated the audience but succeeded at last in taking in the "Knight Com-mander of the Bath." "Captain Corcoran" was faultlessly represented by Major E. J. Hardin, whose full round basso tones rang out clear, filling the hall with rich melody. His acting was very natural and in the "damme chorus" could not be surpassed. Mr. George M. Smedes as the "Admiral," polished up his part so naturally and carefully that now he is called the admirable Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B. No words can describe the inimi-table manner in which he presented the dignified and pompous "Ruler of the

A Startling Statement, Pall Mall Gazette. The profound anxiety with which paign in Zululand is, perhaps, rather suspected than actually known to many; but what is perhaps known to even fewer-still is the amount of effort elatively to our whole military power which we are putting forth in that struggle. The public know, or can ascertain, that we have now, or shall soon have, an army of twenty thousand men engaged in the Zulu war; but how nany of them suspect, what nevertheless is the fact, that in dispatching that force to the Cape we have virtually "shot our bolt," and are at the end of our military resources? We have used up not only our fighting men but are using up our fighting boys. That cam-paign and our little war in Afghanistan have subjected our military strength to what the commander-in-chiefdescribed the other night as "a severe strain;" and from all the accounts which reach us the strain is indeed severe to the extreme limit of tension. And that is the condition of a great power in the present juncture of European affairs, a world-wide empire to defend, and but just emerging from a crisis in which it only escaped by the by-path of surrender from having to enter the field against one of the great military despotisms of the continent! As to the wretched quality of our recruits, that, after being strenuously denied for the last half-dozen years, is now at last ad-mitted. The commander-in-chief admits it and deplores the labor competition which spoils the market of the recruiting sergeant at the soldier's present pay. The under secretary for war admits it, and deprecates the injustice of blaming the present govern ment for a state of things for which no one government—not even that which has been five years in power without correcting it—is responsible. But neither the Duke of Cambridge nor Lord Bury, neither the base government. neither the horse guards nor the war office think it incumbent on them to say any more than this, or do anything

Decidedly one of the nicest and most creditable of any article of Wine we have ever seen, is the Wine bearing the above name made from the Portugal Port Grape cuitivated by Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR. LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879,-WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she con-tinued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such rious other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WAD-DILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.
